EQUINE SERVICES

Over the next few pages you will see some the services we offer. If you would like any more information then please contact us and speak to one of our receptionists or equine vets.

EQUINE CLINIC & FACILITIES

The Hook Norton equine clinic has stabling for seven horses, plus an isolation stable and turnout facilities, allowing us to accommodate medical and surgical cases alongside day patients. Surgeries can be performed in stocks under standing sedation and local anaesthesia, or under general anaesthesia in our purpose-built operating theatre. Lameness cases are assessed on our hard trot-up and lunging pad.

Our equine vets work closely with Dr Jessica Kidd, an RCVS and European Specialist in Equine Surgery to offer a range of elective and emergency surgeries, including:

- Arthroscopy for OCD fragment removal, septic joint flushes and injury diagnosis and treatment
- Tenoscopy
- Fracture repair
- Castration, including cryptorchids ('rigs')
- Upper airway surgery (e.g. Hobdays, tie-backs)
- 'Kissing spine' surgeries (interspinous ligament desmotomy and dorsal spinous process resection)
- Sarcoïd and melanoma removal
- Laser surgery

The clinic also has a JMB approved measuring pad.

POOR PERFORMANCE & LAMENESS INVESTIGATIONS

While many equine lamenesses can be quickly diagnosed and resolved 'on yard', more complex or subtle cases and poor performance investigations often benefit from coming into our clinic where we have a hard trot up, lunge pad and stocks, as well as all our diagnostic equipment. Additionally, as these cases can take several hours to properly work up, many clients find it convenient to leave their horses with us for the day, thereby avoiding the need (and expense!) of taking time off work.

We understand the pressures facing modern competition horses and the minute division between the top placings – our Equine Team includes vets who compete and own horses at the highest levels and have specific interests and experience across all genres of equine sport and leisure riding, including dressage, eventing, and show jumping, as well as the racing & driving community. We pride ourselves on having a truly holistic approach, working closely with farriers, physiotherapists and other complementary therapists.

We recommend start, mid, and end of season checks, particularly for upper-level athletes, to help ensure your horse performs at its optimum.

Please contact the clinic if you have any questions or would like to discuss an assessment.

SURGICAL LASER

Our surgical laser team, headed by Tom Righton, handles an ever-growing caseload of laser sarcoid removal with outstanding results. Many sarcoids can be removed under standing sedation with local anaesthetic, although horses with multiple sarcoids or those which are difficult to access may require a short general anaesthetic. The surgical laser can also be used to remove melanomas and other growths – please contact us if you have any questions, or would like to discuss sarcoids or melanomas concerning your horse.

THERAPEUTIC LASER

Our Class IV lasers can also be used for therapy as well as for surgery. Laser therapy has a wide range of applications through its photobiomodulatory effects on cells and tissues. Applications for laser therapy include:-

- > Pain relief – laser therapy slows sensory nerve conduction and so reduces the perception of pain. Acute and chronic conditions both respond well to laser treatment, and the equine vets can often be found lasering the latest injuries in the clinic.
- > Increased circulation – improved blood supply to the treated area, speeding up wound healing and resolution of inflammation.
- > Enhanced wound healing – wounds treated with lasers contract (shrink) faster and re-epithelialise (grow new skin) faster than untreated wounds.

ROUTINE PREVENTATIVE HEALTH CARE

VACCINATIONS

Vaccinating your horse, pony or donkey should be part of your routine preventative healthcare plan. While most competition governing bodies require up-to-date vaccinations for competing, we also strongly recommend vaccinating non-competition horses and ponies and breeding animals.

If you would like advice on vaccinating your horse, pony, or donkey, please contact our equine team who will be happy to help.

EQUINE DENTAL PROCEDURES

Whether your horse requires a routine rasp or treatment for dental disease, our experienced equine vets have the knowledge, experience, and the latest equipment to perform a thorough and comprehensive examination of your horse's mouth and teeth. This can then be followed by safe and effective dental treatment.

Should your horse be nervous or agitated, our equine vets are legally able to administer sedation to allow a stress-free and safe experience for them.

SMARTPLAN WORMING MANAGEMENT

Our fantastic Lab Team has all the skills and knowledge for us to be able to perform in-house Worm Egg Counts (and much more!), which means we can advise you on what action you need to take with your horse within 24-48 hours.

We also offer SmartPlan, where for an annual fee, you receive everything you need to look after 1 horse, in a well-managed pasture for 1 year.

- > Winter wormer*
 - > Equisal tapeworm saliva test
 - > 3x faecal egg counts
 - > Advice
 - > Weigh tape
 - > Text message reminders
 - > Discount for annual renewals
- (*NB additional wormers, if required, are at an additional cost)

EXPORT TESTING

Our Official Veterinarians are accredited by the Government to certify horses and ponies for export from the UK to other countries. The administrative requirements for horse export testing have changed considerably since Brexit and are now more complicated than previously. An outline of the necessary steps is provided below – for greater detail, specific questions and to apply for an Export Health Certificate please (EHC) visit the government website.

You need to complete an EHC and supporting documents to export or move a live animal from Great Britain to the EU or Northern Ireland. The EHC is an official document that confirms your export meets the health requirements of the destination country.

Exporting or moving equines from Great Britain to the EU or Northern Ireland

To export or move horses and other equines from Great Britain (England, Scotland and Wales) to the EU or Northern Ireland, you need to contact:

- Hook Norton Equine Vets – to book an appointment so you can get blood tests taken in time. Please book in plenty of time, as the blood samples are sent away to a Government laboratory and may take up to 2 weeks before the results are ready.
- an agent or transporter and tell them when you plan to travel. Your transporter organises your travel and documentation for you to make sure everything is in order.

You also need to:

- apply for an export health certificate (EHC)
 - meet isolation and residency requirements
 - check you have the right equine identification (ID)
 - be aware of EU border rules
 - check that the person transporting the animals has the correct documentation
 - check if you need an export welfare declaration
 - check if you need a county parish holding (CPH) number
- Your agent or transporter will help you with these requirements.

Contact us if you would like to book an appointment for export blood samples to be taken.

LABORATORY SERVICES

Our in-house laboratory team process blood samples, tracheal washes, and faecal worm egg counts, allowing us rapid access to results so we can respond quickly to emergency cases. More specialised tests are sent to external laboratories for processing.

Blood samples

Haematology – counting and examining red and white blood cells to assess hydration and immune system function.

Biochemistry – measuring levels of tissue enzymes to check for muscle damage, organ function and immune system function

Foal IgG tests – checking that foals have had enough colostrum (first milk) to have absorbed sufficient levels of maternal antibodies. Foals are born without any of their own antibodies and have to rely on antibodies transferred through colostrum for immune defence against infectious diseases in the first few months of life

Tracheal Washes

Saline washes taken from the trachea during endoscopy are analysed to count different cell types in order to differentiate inflammation from infection. The samples can also be sent for culture and sensitivity in cases of respiratory infection.

Faecal worm egg counts (WECs)

Adult worms in the intestine shed eggs into the faeces, which allows us to use a faecal worm egg count to assess worm burden.

How to collect a faecal sample for a worm egg count

1. Collect first thing in the morning, so the sample is fresh. The older a sample is, the more likely it is that any eggs in the sample will hatch, falsely reducing the egg count.
2. Pack the sample into a small pot (available free from equine reception and by prior arrangement from our branch surgeries), pressing down to exclude air. The presence of oxygen encourages eggs to hatch, again falsely reducing the egg count.
3. Bring the sample to the Hook Norton as soon as possible – if you are delayed, please keep the sample refrigerated to inhibit egg hatching. If possible, please bring samples before 12 pm so that there is sufficient time for the Laboratory Team to process the sample while it is still fresh. The lab also processes samples for our busy Small Animal and Farm departments as well as Equine!

Large batches of samples

If possible, we ask that samples be dropped off before 12 pm. We ask that no more than 10 samples be brought in at one time to ensure that they are all processed while they are still fresh. Aged samples can give falsely low results and may miss an opportunity to treat a horse with a heavy worm burden. However, if you have more than 10 samples to drop off, a quick call to our Reception Team is appreciated so we can forwarn the lab!

HOLISTIC APPROACH TO EQUINE CARE

We pride ourselves on having a truly holistic approach, using complementary therapies and working closely with farriers, physiotherapists and other therapists to help care for your horse and ensure they perform at their optimum.

ACUPUNCTURE

Acupuncture in horses alleviates soft tissue pain, whether it is primary muscle pain or secondary compensations due to musculoskeletal injury. It can be used to complement or replace physiotherapy or medication. Conditions that respond well to acupuncture include back pain, muscle tears or strains, and generalised muscle soreness after injury or laminitis. Acupuncture can be particularly useful in managing sports horses, as treatments can be given very close to competition.

Fiona Elliot and Nancy Homewood are trained in veterinary acupuncture, and are available for consultations both at the surgery and at home. If you would like to find out more please phone Fiona or Nancy at the practice on 01608 730085.

EQUINE BEHAVIOUR TRAINING

Does your horse get stressed or anxious during vet or farrier visits? If so, you probably get quite stressed too! What if there was a system of low-stress handling techniques that you could learn to help your horse be more relaxed?

Senior Equine Vet, Sally Hodgson, has a strong interest in equine behaviour and training and has space to offer a number of clinical equine behaviour consultations, using humane methods based on modern equitation, science and an understanding of equine behaviour.

Common issues that we can help with in this way include fear or dislike of needles or examinations, handling or catching problems and fear of the farrier. These methods are also very effective for everyday handling and education of foals and youngsters.

Our aim is to create a vet visit that is less stressful for you and your horse and to give you the tools to work through common handling problems in a safe and humane way.

Research published in the journal Equine Veterinary Education has highlighted that equine vets have one of the highest injury risks of all civilian professions. To help address this serious issue, the British Equine Veterinary Association has launched a series of videos, featuring equine vet and behaviourist Gemma Pearson, demonstrating quick, simple and humane ways of helping horses to be quiet, relaxed and safe for injections, clipping, worming, examinations and other veterinary procedures.

Please contact the practice and speak to Sally if you would like to book a behaviour consultation. T: 01608 730085

PORTABLE DIAGNOSTICS

ULTRASONOGRAPHY

Ultrasonography (scanning) is the go-to imaging technique for soft tissue injuries and medical diagnostics. Our portable machines allow us to capture very high-quality images.

TENDONS, LIGAMENTS AND JOINTS

Scans of the lower legs are very commonly performed to diagnose and assess the severity of an injury. This information helps us to form a treatment plan tailored to your horse. In addition, repeating scans through the rehabilitation period lets us monitor healing and make sure that rehabilitation is progressing at the correct rate. Ultrasound scans of the tendons during the competition season are also a useful tool for monitoring horses performing at a very high level, such as eventers and racehorses, and can allow minor strains to be detected and treated before they become serious injuries.

We can also use ultrasound to examine joints, for example, the cartilages in the stifle joint or small OCD fragments in fetlocks and stifles. In these cases, ultrasonography complements the information gained from x-raying.

ABDOMINAL DISEASE

Ultrasound can be used to help us assess the abdomen in sick horses. The depth of tissue and the presence of gas in the large intestine means that not all of the abdominal contents can be seen on a scan, but there is still a lot of information that can be gained from imaging the structures we can reach! Ultrasound can help guide us in taking biopsies in horses with liver disease and in finding bladder stones.

HEART SCANS

Cardiac scans (echocardiography) allow us to assess the health and function of the heart – our Doppler probe lets us identify turbulent blood flow caused by leaky heart valves.

EYES

Most of the time, we can examine the back of the eye using an ophthalmoscope, but if the cornea is completely clouded over, we can use ultrasound to check for problems such as retinal detachment and glaucoma.

PREGNANCY DIAGNOSIS

Ultrasound examination can detect pregnancy as early as 14 days and find the embryo's heartbeat from 28 days. It also lets us check the health of the placenta. View our Stud Work page for more information on getting your mare in foal.

FRACTURES

Although bone reflects ultrasound, fractures of flat bones such as the pelvis and shoulder blade can sometimes be seen on an ultrasound scan. In a normal horse, the surface of the bone appears as a smooth, continuous white line. However, a fracture may create a gap or step in the white line – sometimes, this can be very subtle and may require scanning on several occasions to be sure of the diagnosis.

HOW DOES ULTRASONOGRAPHY WORK?

Ultrasonography works by sending a beam of sound waves into the body. When the beam hits the tissues, it is partly reflected back towards the probe. The probe detects the return signal and the machine processes this to produce a picture.

Different tissues reflect different proportions of the beam, and so produce different shades of white or grey in the ultrasound image. For example, bone reflects all of the ultrasound beam and so looks bright white on the screen. Tendons reflect some of the beam and appear grey. Fluid doesn't reflect any of the beam and so looks black. This allows us to identify different structures and changes in the appearance of the structures we examine and guide our diagnosis. Like bone, air reflects all of the ultrasound beam and prevents us from seeing any structures behind it. This is why we need to clip and apply coupling gel to the skin for scanning – clipping removes the air trapped between the coat's hairs, and the coupling gel ensures the probe has an even contact with the area we want to scan.

PORTABLE DIAGNOSTICS

ENDOSCOPY

Fibre-optic endoscopy allows us to examine the upper airway, nasal passages, guttural pouches, sinuses, oesophagus, stomach and bladder under standing sedation. Some endoscopy procedures examinations can be carried out using a battery-powered endoscope (e.g. upper respiratory tract), but others, such as gastroscopy, use a larger video unit which requires mains power. When booking an endoscopic examination please let us know whether or not mains power is available at your yard so we can make the necessary arrangements to meet your needs.

Mucus and blood in the upper airway can indicate inflammation or infection of the airways and is graded to reflect severity. Tracheal wash and bronchoalveolar lavage samples can be taken for characterisation of the problem (bacterial infection vs. allergic airway disease) and for culture and sensitivity in the case of bacterial infections.

X-RAY

We have two portable digital x-ray systems that provide high-quality images wherever you may be. In addition, our battery-powered generator allows us to take x-rays without mains power. However, please let us know when booking an x-ray appointment if you do not have mains power!

X-ray images are uploaded to a cloud-based storage system from which they can quickly be emailed to you, your farrier, referral clinicians or anywhere else they are needed.

Preparation is an important part of acquiring high-quality images. You can help us in this by ensuring that your horse is clean and dry (mud and wet hair can be seen on x-rays and can prevent accurate interpretation of the image!) and that there is a firm, level surface, preferably under cover – electrics and rain don't mix well!

SHOCKWAVE THERAPY

Extracorporeal shock wave therapy (ESWT) or 'Shockwave' therapy.

Shockwave therapy is a non-invasive treatment and uses a high-energy sound wave created outside the body and transferred to a specific area within the body. It is very useful alongside the treatment of many ligament injuries and back pain, helping to stimulate healing and reduce pain.

The energy waves travel easily through the skin into deeper structures within the body, where they can stimulate healing.

We routinely use shockwave therapy for:

- Suspensory ligament injuries
- Collateral ligament injuries
- Navicular Syndrome
- Sacro-iliac injuries
- Kissing spine and back pain
- Splints
- Angular limb deformities in foals

PRE-PURCHASE EXAMINATIONS

The pre-purchase examination, or ‘vetting’, is designed to identify potential veterinary-related risks associated with purchasing a horse and whether it is likely to be able to physically fulfil your requirements. Our vets are caring and reliable, with many years of experience. We provide you with a thorough examination, offering sensible and practical advice.

The pre-purchase/vetting examination provides an assessment of the horse at the time of examination to help inform the potential purchaser's decision to continue with their purchase. However, it does not guarantee a horse's suitability for its intended use.

Please contact our Equine Reception Team for pre-purchase examination prices.

Follow the QR code to our website where you can view full details of what is involved at each stage of a pre-purchase examination, request a vetting and sign vetting documents pre-purchase.

JMB MEASUREMENTS

Our Equine Clinic has a JMB official measuring pad. Nancy Homewood is on the JMB panel of Official Measurers. We accept measures from both clients and non-clients – please refer to the JMB website for full details of how to arrange a measurement, or contact us on 01608 730085 to book a measurement.

Booking a JMB Official Measure

All measures must be booked and paid for online before the appointment via the official JMB website.

> You will need to select Hook Norton Veterinary Group as your ‘preferred measurer’ and complete the online form before calling us to book an appointment.

> When you call us to book a measurement, please have your horse's microchip number to hand. We prefer to book measurements at around 4 pm, as this is when the clinic is usually quietest – we are trying to help you achieve a calm and relaxed horse!

> Please remember to bring your horse's passport to the measurement appointment, as the horse's identification must be verified before measuring.

ZONE VISITS

As a practice we run a system of visits, with a significantly reduced visit fee of £15 on specific zone days. The practice area has been divided up into three segments, each of which is allocated a different day of the week. Registered clients must phone and book no later than 48-hours prior to their zone visit day.

Zone days are Tuesdays (red), Wednesdays (yellow) or Thursdays (blue) depending on your colour coded area shown on the map. An interactive map is available on our website.

By offering a limited selection of routine procedures and efficiently organising the vet's day we can reduce the visit charge.

Zone visit clients need to be flexible. The vet will determine the time of the visit from the number of calls booked in on a particular day. The day prior to your zone visit we will contact you by telephone and you will be given a 2-hour time ‘window’ in which the vet is expected to arrive.

Your horses/ponies need to be caught, ready and waiting with their passports for when the vet arrives on the yard and there must be a suitable person present to handle the animal/s. Vets are unable to perform extra examinations or treat extra horses in addition to the procedures booked.

Below: The map is for guidance only. If you are unsure of your zone day please contact us.

Zone visits will be allocated on a ‘first come, first served’ basis and are only available to clients who are up to date with their invoice payments - i.e. paid within 30 days from the date of invoice. This directly rewards clients dealing efficiently with their invoices - enabling us to provide this reduced visit fee service.

Clients who receive a zone visit but are not up to date with our Payment Terms will be charged as a Multiple/Shared Visit (approximately 1/3 of a full visit for their area) - unless the delay in payment is due to a pending insurance claim.

To book onto a zone visit simply contact our Equine Reception Team on 01608 730085 (option 1) and we will book you onto the next available day.

Zone visits do not work with everyone's commitments and work schedules; if you cannot be available for the 2-hour time window on your allocated day we will be more than happy to book you a visit at a time to suit you.

ROUTINE PROCEDURES INCLUDED ON ZONE VISITS

- Vaccinations
- Blood tests

(Please note that some blood tests will require you to bring the bloods back to the Hook Norton Surgery within 2 hours. If you cannot do this, then we recommend that you book a regular visit with one of our Vet's)

- Routine dentistry
- Dressing changes (at vet's discretion)
- Sedate for clipping
- Sedate for the dentist

(maximum 2. If sedating for your own dentist, they must be registered with the BAEDT)

GENERAL TERMS APPLYING TO THE PROVISION OF ALL GOODS & SERVICES VETERINARY CARE

HNVG aims to provide veterinary services in accordance with the code encompassed in the RCVS guidelines for practice standards and for the professional conduct of veterinary surgeons and veterinary nurses. Guidelines are available at www.rcvs.org.uk. Please be aware that veterinary care will be withheld from clients who appear aggressive or abusive to staff members.

FEES & CHARGES

All fees for professional advice, services and prices for goods (including food, accessories and drugs) are subject to VAT at the applicable rate. You will receive a detailed breakdown of these charges for every consultation, surgical procedure and transaction with us. Professional fees vary depending on the time spent on a case, the level of expertise required of the staff looking after your animal, and according to the drugs, materials or consumables used to provide these services. These may also include fees for the case referral to another specialist practice. Separate charges will also apply for the costs of posting or delivering clinical samples for analysis and sending out orders for drugs/ other goods if requested. These are usually sent by Recorded or Special Delivery post or delivered by courier.

ESTIMATES

Estimates may be provided verbally either at the time of booking the appointment or during the consultation itself. Written estimates are available on request. Any estimate given can only be approximate since an animal's illness will not always follow a conventional course, and unforeseen expenses may occur. We will endeavour to contact you at our earliest opportunity if we believe the costs could be significantly higher than the estimate. Please note: for long-term hospitalised patients, account updates can be given daily upon request.

PRESCRIPTIONS & DISPENSING OF DRUGS

You may obtain Prescription Only Medicines, Category V (POM-Vs), from this Practice OR ask for a written prescription and obtain these medicines from another veterinary surgeon or a pharmacy. HNVG can only prescribe POM-Vs for animals under our care. However, we can provide POM-V drugs if presented with a written prescription from another veterinary surgeon. A prescription may not be appropriate if your animal is an in-patient or if immediate treatment is necessary. Your veterinary surgeon may only prescribe relevant veterinary medicinal products following a clinical assessment of an animal under our care. The general policy of this Practice is to recheck an animal requiring repeat prescriptions for supplies of relevant veterinary medicinal products every 3 months; however, this may vary with individual circumstances. In more complicated/unstable cases, prescription rechecks may be more frequent depending on the professional judgment of the veterinary surgeon managing the case. There is usually a charge for a prescription recheck and written prescriptions, details of which will be provided on enquiry. You will be informed, upon request, of the price of any medicine which may be prescribed for your animal. Please give us 48 hours' notice for any requests for a repeat or written prescription.

REMINDERS

Your responsibilities – you are responsible for ensuring your animal's routine healthcare is up to date. Where possible, we provide a reminder service to help remind you of specific dates for routine healthcare. We are not responsible for lost reminders or reminders you have not viewed. It is your responsibility to book these appointments, and we are not accountable should your animal become overdue for routine healthcare; this includes but is not limited to; vaccinations, internal and external parasite treatments, dental care, and health checks.

PET HEALTH INSURANCE, MICROCHIPPING & VACCINATION

HNVG strongly support the principle of insuring your animal against unexpected illness or accident. HNVG will endeavour to complete and forward an insurance claim to your insurance company as soon as practicable after the submission of the claim form to us by the client.

The following applies if you need to make an insurance claim.

- If the cost of the claim is under £500.00. We kindly request that payment is made in full to HNVG at the time of any treatment. We will assist you in making a claim with your insurance company and arrange payment to be made to you directly with no admin fee.
- If the cost of the claim is over £500 and you do not wish to make payment at the time. We kindly ask for you to make payment for any excess at the time plus an admin fee per condition. We will manage your insurance claim and arrange for payments to be made directly to HNVG.
- If it is a continuation. Payment terms are as above. However, there is no admin fee for a continuation claim, and in most cases, there is no additional excess. The client must pay all excess and administrative charges within 30 days by the methods above. Please note that the balance of any fees charged that the insurance company does not cover will be subject to full payment by the client or animal owner/agent. The submission by you of an insurance claim form for your animal will automatically give us the right to discuss your claim with and respond to enquiries made about it by your Insurance Company.

HNVG also strongly recommend having your animal regularly vaccinated and microchipped (required by law for dogs). Please ask for details about these important actions you can take to protect, care for, and identify your animal.

OUT-OF-HOURS SERVICE

Weekend consultations are available at our Hook Norton Hospital.

Telephone calls to closed branches are automatically redirected to Hook Norton. We operate a 24-hour emergency service and have our own dedicated Night Veterinary & Nursing Team. If a call is 'out of hours', the telephone call will be answered by our Answering Service, who will contact the duty veterinary surgeon to respond to your emergency as soon as possible. In the rare event you are not called back within 10 minutes, please redial. For animals needing 24-hour intensive care or nursing, this is provided at the Small Animal Hospital at White Hills Veterinary Surgery, Hook Norton, where we also have Equine in-patient facilities. Please note that additional charges apply for out-of-hours consultations.

OWNERSHIP OF RECORDS, X-RAYS & SIMILAR DOCUMENTS

The care given to your animal may involve making some specific investigations, for example, taking blood samples, X-rays, or performing ultrasound scans. Even though we make a charge for carrying out these investigations & interpreting their results, the resulting records (clinical or otherwise) remain the property of the HNVG.

Case records can be copied and, on request, may be passed onto another veterinary surgeon taking over the case. Clinical samples taken may also be passed onto external laboratories to undertake further investigations to assist with our diagnosis or treatment plan. There may be a charge incurred for copying any veterinary records and documentation.

VIDEO CONSULTATIONS

The video consultation fee must be paid before the video consultation. If payment has not been received, your video consultation will be cancelled. Anything outside of the video consultation fee (for example, medication) will be payable at the normal rate after your consultation. Video consultations are only accessible via PetsApp, which is free for you to download and use on both Apple and Android devices and can be accessed via an internet browser.

Video consultations are not to be used in life-threatening situations. Please call us as soon as possible by phone if your pet is in a life-threatening condition. HNVG LTD reserves the right to change the terms and conditions of this offer or remove it at any time.

SYMPTOM CHECKER & POISONS GUIDE

Our interactive Symptom Checker and Poisons Guide are a guide only. They help you decide how quickly you should call the vet to seek veterinary attention and are only for use in the UK. If your animal's symptoms are not listed, you are worried, or you are in any doubt about your animal's condition, telephone your vet for advice.
